

Bacca Bucci Sneakers Website Scrapping

1. Project Overview

This project is a Python-based web scraping application that extracts product information from the Bacca Bucci sneaker collection website. The extracted data includes:

- Product Name
- Product Image URL
- Discounted Price
- Original Price

The final dataset is saved into a CSV file for analysis.Send a request to the website using requests.get().

| Tool/Library | Purpose |
|---------------------|--------------------------------------|
| Python | Programming Language |
| requests | To send HTTP requests to the website |
| BeautifulSoup (bs4) | To parse HTML content |
| pandas | To create and manage tabular data |
| Google Colab | Development environment |

3. Code:

a) Import Libraries

import requests
from bs4 import BeautifulSoup
import pandas as pd
```

b) Send Request

url = "https://baccabucci.com/collections/bacca-bucci-sneakers"
```

response = requests.get(url)
response
```

```
<Response [200]>
```

c) HTML Parsing

soup = BeautifulSoup(response.text)
soup

2. Workflow

- Parse the response using BeautifulSoup.
- Extract:
  - Image URLs from <img> tags
  - Product titles from  tags
  - Discounted price from
  - Original price from <dd class="price__compare">
- Clean and format extracted data.
- Store data into a Pandas DataFrame.
- Save DataFrame as a CSV file.

print(soup.prettify())

Conclusion:

This project successfully demonstrates the use of Python for real-world web scraping applications. By integrating libraries such as Requests, BeautifulSoup, and Pandas, the system efficiently extracted product names, image URLs, discounted prices, and original prices from an e-commerce website.Overall, the project proves that web scraping is an effective and powerful method for collecting large-scale product data efficiently, reducing manual work, and improving data accuracy.
